

The Six Masks of Harmony

by Felipe Tuller and Miguel Melo

A sorceress discovered how to access the Temple of Harmony. Since then, day and night no longer follow their natural cycle. The sorceress has never been seen again.

Cycle of Day and Night
Whenever the PCs change rooms or stay in one place for a while, the time of day or night changes.

Guardians
Small guardians allied with night and day roam the temple and can help and/or hinder the PCs' plans, depending on which masks or NPCs they ally with.

Guardians of the Sun: Made of solid gold. Each creature is worth 200 gp in gold. Sharp claws and can emit light to temporarily blind their enemies.

Guardians of the Moon: The color of their petals changes according to the phases of the moon. Sharp thorns and can put enemies to sleep.

01. Initial Room

- Broken statue (recent visible damage). Where there used to be 6 faces, now only 3 remain. Bloodstains in a corner of the room.
- Colorful mosaic with drawings of the 6 spirits on the floor.

- Eyes of the Spirit of Secrets (8) move, subtly indicating something near the bloodstains.
- Investigating the bloodstain area reveals magical teleportation runes to room 8.

02. Viewpoint

- Spirit of Light at the Viewpoint. PCs can see the other rooms below them. By looking closely, a flower "floats" over the abyss near the Viewpoint.
- Viewpoint with vision blocked by clouds, only the light from the Brazier Room (3) can be seen.

Invisible staircase to the Flower Room (5) on day.

Spirit of Light

- Radiant creature. Looking directly at it can cause blindness.
- Hates lies. Envis the Spirit of Secrets: asks the PCs to destroy the library books for containing profane knowledge.
- In love with the Spirit of the Hunt. Wants to observe it closely.

03. Brazier

- Scalding room with a magical brazier with orange flames, but harmless to the touch. The Spirt of Wonder is tending the flames.
- Magic Ember: Breaking an ember stone releases colored smoke that affects the nearest creature with a behavior-changing spell for a few moments (d6):

1 - Red smoke: happiness	4 - Blue smoke: envy
2 - Green smoke: contempt	5 - Yellow smoke: apathy
3 - Purple smoke: anxiety	6 - Pink smoke: curiosity

Spirit of Wonder

- Generates a magical attraction in those affected by its heat.
- Causes flame damage to anything it touches.
- Falls in love at first sight with a random PC.
- When interacting with another creature (spirit, PCs, etc), there is a 2 in 6 chance of the spirit falling in love with them.

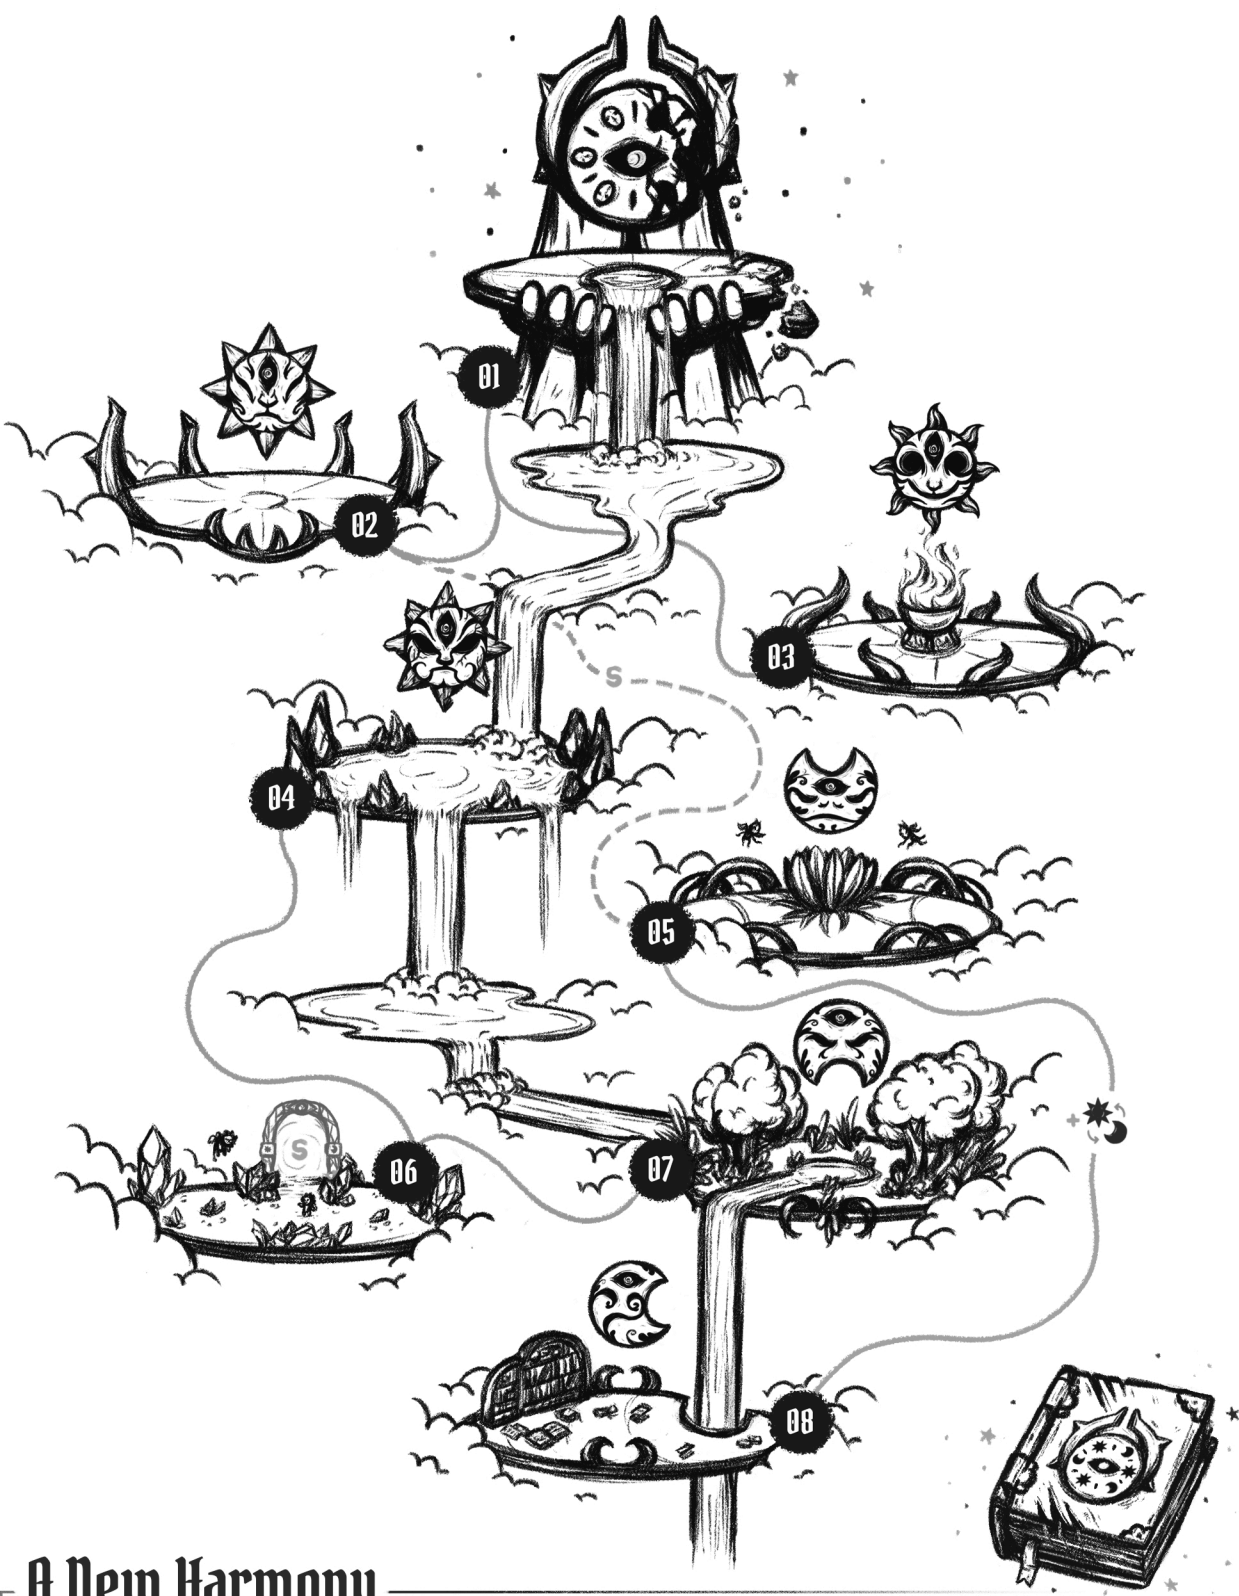

04. Waterfall

- Flooded room with debris and boulders. Spirit of Catastrophe within the waterfall. A strong current requires the PCs to make periodic tests to avoid being swept away.
- Controlled current. The sorceress's body, with claw and peck wounds, is trapped in debris.

The Spirit of Secrets (8) lured the sorceress to the temple with a Message spell and convinced her to release it by breaking the Harmony Statue. The sorceress was betrayed and thrown into the waterfall.

Spirit of Catastrophe

- The volume of its voice generates climate changes.
- Considers itself an ally of the Spirit of Secrets: admires its cleverness.
- Proud and unstable. Easily offended. May ally with the PCs if they pass a physical trial.

A New Harmony

The six masks are sentient items that can take the form of spirits. In their corporeal form, the spirits can be wounded and killed. To leave the temple, the PCs need to place 3 masks on the altar in the Initial Room (1), establishing a new harmony between day and night. The PCs receive equivalent blessings:

- Domain of the Sun (3 sun masks): immunity to disease and poison effects.
- Domain of the Moon (3 moon masks): eliminates the need to sleep without negative consequences.
- Domain of Twilight (2 moon masks and 1 sun mask): grants the ability to detect magic around you.
- Domain of Dawn (2 sun masks and 1 moon mask): immunity to mental effects and illusions.

05. Flower

- A large, empty room. A huge black Night-Blooming Flower on a pedestal. Its petals exude a scent that induces sleep.
- A large room dominated by a 60ft tall Night-Blooming Flower in the center. The Spirit of Darkness watches from the top.

Spirit of Darkness

- The spirit's presence induces a magical sleep: the affected creature only wakes up with sunlight.
- Inquisitive. Admires those who can stay awake after telling a long and complete story.
- Wants to establish a harmony of the night: asks the PCs to obtain other moon masks.

06. Reflections

- Small translucent crystals. Objects in this room reflect more light than normal.

Reflecting light with golden objects reveals treasures in the corners of the room: 6 shooting stars (100 gp each), 3 handfuls of star dust: studying the material reveals healing properties.

Alternative Exit:
Reflecting light with a sun mask reveals a golden arch on the perimeter of the room, facing the abyss with the inscription: "Beyond this arch, order dissolves into chaos and fades into shadows." The first being that passes through the arch dies, turning into smoke, opening a portal out of the temple for a few seconds.

07. Jungle

- Strange animal sounds and running water. Talking birds warn not to follow the current. The jungle is full of trinkets and broken golden arrows. Searching for a while reveals 1d6 golden arrows that silence the target hit.
- The Spirit of the Hunt and 1d6+2 wolves hunt the PCs through the jungle.

The Spirit of the Hunt is bathing in the river bend on day.

Spirit of the Hunt

- The presence of the spirit creates absolute silence around itself but amplifies the sound of speech.
- Mute spirit. Produces sounds of pain and contempt when hearing voices. Fears and hates flames.
- Wants to bathe in the waterfall (4). Wishes to capture the sun guardians and use them as forest decorations.

08. Library

- Ancient books (illegible) on the shelves and scattered on the floor.
- Books appear new, revealing dangerous and powerful knowledge. Spirit of Secrets reading a book.

- Scroll of Speak with Dead.
- Scroll of Masquerade: voice and appearance become identical to a character you touch.
- Magic Portal: The well contains a teleport to the Initial Room (1).
- A grimoire (Sky Tome) with a thick, heavy cover and claw marks on the edges:

- The Sky Tome explains the temple's concept of 'harmony through eternal conflict'
- A secret compartment inside the back cover of the book contains instructions on how to activate the portal in the Room of Reflections (6).
- Contains the Message and Telepathy spells on its pages

Spirit of Secrets

- Manipulative owl. Killed the sorceress. Knows how to open the portal in the Room of Reflections (6). Tries to push one of the PCs through the arch to open the passage and to escape the temple.
- Envious of the Spirit of Catastrophe and the Spirit of Wonder. Encourages the PCs to destroy them.
- Spiral Staff: Spells cast against the bearer have the opposite effect.